

UDB-STAT

Statistics online from Russia and the Commonwealth of Independent States

The Latest Statistics from Russia, in Digital Format

At last, a digital source for current data from Russia and the former Soviet republics: the Universal Database of Russian and CIS Statistics (UDB-STAT).

Designed for data searching and retrieval, UDB-STAT provides unparalleled access to important statistical data, at a compelling price.

Authoritative

The State Committee on Statistics of the Russian Federation and the CIS Statistical Committee has designated UDB-STAT as an official portal.

Developed in cooperation with leading statistical authorities, UDB-STAT contains official reports, yearbooks and related publications of regional statistical bodies and statistical agencies of the former Soviet Union.

Expansive

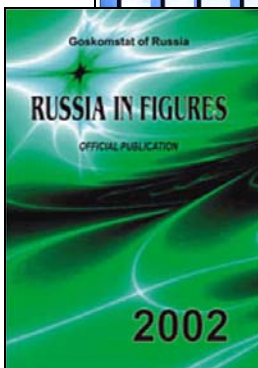

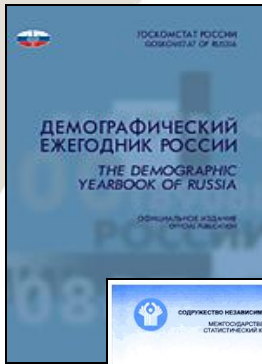

Monthly reports, annual statistical abstracts and special bulletins on a wide range of timely subjects.

Covers major economic indicators, industry, agriculture, economy and finance, population, environment, transportation, health, natural resources, and regional/urban statistics.

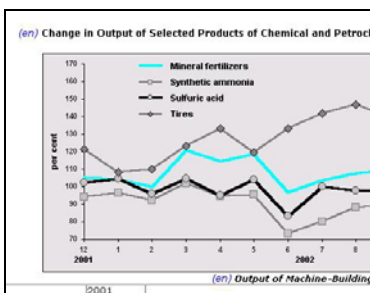

Add the 2002 All-Russian Population Census

The most current census of Russia is the 2002 All-Russian Population Census. It is also available online as a supplement to UDB-STAT.
